

Australia At Risk

Threats to the National Interest

Defence Capability in Question

Does it Matter?

Many Australians have become increasingly concerned at the long term run down in defence spending and are questioning Australia's capacity to defend itself should a threat arise.

Does It Matter To You?

Public Meeting

To raise awareness of issues critical to the National Interest, the Council for the National Interest continues it's series of PUBLIC MEETINGS and warmly invites you to come and hear:

Colonel P. H. Noonan, ADC
Manager
Defence Corporate Support Centre
Western Australia

The Problems of Today's Army

Future Challenges for our Army

Col. Noonan, the most senior Army officer in WA, will review these issues in a clear and insightful manner with emphasis of the first topic.

The last decade of continuous reduction in the allocation of resources to the Army has had serious major consequences which have degraded the Army's capability to defend the Nation.

Learn the facts and the truth yourself.

WHERE Royal Perth Yacht Club Inc
Junior Training Rooms
Australia 11 Drive
CRAWLEY

WHEN 7.30pm Wednesday 20th October 1999

The Council for the National Interest is an Australia wide group of concerned Australians determined to raise the level of debate on important social and economic issues and is committed to building a better Australia. The Council is NON PARTY POLITICAL.

You are invited to join us for a cuppa afterwards.